

I'll Drink to That!

By Paul Gibson

The famous Spanish winemaker, Osborne, now has a new look!

Osborne is a food and beverage company in Spain.

They make beverages like fine wines, sherry like Jerez, rum like Santa Teresa, whisky, and spring water, but also food like Iberian ham.

They used to make fine cheeses, tequila, and other products as well.

They decided to change the company logo, but they still include the bull.

Osborne is known for household brand names such as Solan de Cabras, Montecillo, and Frangelico.